Bandit Fails To Secure Loot At State Store Here

Lone Armed Man Attempts Holdup Of Produce St. State Store Unsuccessfully

FLEES WITHOUT SECURING MONEY

Attempt to hold up the State Liquor store in Produce street at three o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, failed to net a colored bandit, armed with an automatic revolver any money, according to Manager Frank De Mauro. Although sought by police immediately after he left the store, the bandit escaped.

The bandit failed to get any money because both the safe and cash register were locked and he did not wait for Manager De Mauro to unlock them, although De Mauro offered to, because he did not want any trouble.

The bandit entered the store with the automatic and leaped over a counter, herded the clerks into a rear room then went to the office in which were Manager De Mauro, and Misses Viola De Mauro and Laura Purdy, clerks.

Tried To Open Safe

He tried to open the safe, found it locked then went to the cash register and also found it locked. Manager De Mauro, desiring no trouble offered to unlock the safe and cash register.

The man, whom the clerks said was surly, refused to wait. He Workmen of the Highway department are engaged in making repairs to the steel mesh on the West Washington street bridge. The workmen will strengthen the mesh and eliminate the rattling noise which takes place when a car drives over it. The bridge is not closed but traffic is slowed down while the work progresses.

Progress is being made on the state highway road building project at Ewing Park in Ellwood City. The road bed is ready for the stone to be poured. A project of a similar nature in the Chewton district also shows favorable progress. Several roads in the county are to receive white lines shortly, it is reported by the department.

Pa New is reminded by a little boy in the city that dog owners should not forget to give their dogs plenty of water these hot days. He reminded us that we urge feeding of birds in winter and why not watering of dogs and other animals in the summer.

Pa New is wondering if any other automobiles can beat this record. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wells and son Jimmy of 513 Fairfield avenue drove a 1936 coupe to Alabama, making a round trip of 1900 miles. The results were one broken leaf in a spring and a flat tire. The family traveled over some high mountains, too.

Showers that New Castle has been getting in the past few days are rather mild compared to deluges that have struck some sections of Western Pennsylvania during the period. From Meadville comes report of a downfall of nearly four inches in less than an hour on Tuesday night, which flooded streets of the city. Other areas also report heavy storms.

The only difference between weather conditions yesterday and those of a year ago on the same date, was that it rained yesterday. There was only one degree difference in the maximum temperature, while the minimum was the same.

Bicycle inspections will be conducted in the Fourth ward, at the Ray street fire department, Friday, according to Inspector Jack Lewellyn. There will be no inspections Saturday.

"Blair House Plan" Is Being Reshuffled

By FRANK B. ALLEN (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The Administration is believed today to be doing a quick reshuffle of the "Blair House Plan" for broader atomic weapon co-operation with Britain and Canada.

There are indications that the administration wants the sanction of top Congressional leaders on its atomic policy before the arms-for-Europe program is sent to Congress.

It was learned that the administration's secret proposal for rough shagging in the Senate-Atomic Committee. Even a full dress rehearsal of the secret Blair House meeting with the president's top security aides present failed to smooth them out.

One informed source said that feeling of the still-undisclosed proposal ran so high among one committee faction that three members threatened to carry a fight to the floors of Congress unless it is altered.

To Be Watered Down

He predicted that it would have to be watered down before Congress would accept it.

The threatened floor fight is said to concern the question of how far the administration can go in making secret international arrangements regarding atomic energy without violating the McMahon Atomic Act.

The act bars exchange of information about atomic "industrial power."

It does provide that an international "arrangement" supersedes any provision of the act with which it conflicts.

But it also provides that such an

Truman Insists Blair House Secret Meeting Relatively Unimportant

WASHINGTON, July 21.—President Truman insisted today that the much-discussed secret atomic meeting at Blair House was concerned with relatively unimportant matters.

Mr. Truman insisted at a news conference that most of the stories published about that meeting have been in the nature of speculation and rumor.

The President's statement came as the administration was believed to be doing a quick reshuffle of the "Blair House Plan" for broader atomic weapon cooperation with Britain and Canada.

Blames Leak
Mr. Truman verbally spanked an unnamed person who attended the meeting for having leaked information beforehand that the conference was taking place.

He said that in all the time he has been in the White House he

Probers May Call Vaughan

White House Military Aide May Be Summoned In Senate 'Five Percent' Probe

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(INS)—Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, White House military aide, can expect a call to testify in the Senate "five percent" probe of investigators decide he can "contribute something of value."

This was disclosed today by Sen. Hoey (D-N. C., chairman of the subcommittee which is looking into the activities of the men who, for a fee, use their influence to help out-of-towners get government contracts.

Not Decided Yet

Hoey said the subcommittee has not yet decided whether to call Vaughan. He declared that the decision will be based entirely on what is turned up by staff members between now and the time he goes on early next month.

He added that he did not think subcommittee members would summon the aide and confidant of the President merely because of his reported statement that he knew of 300 so-called "five percenters."

Hoey spoke after Sen. Mundt (R-N. D., a subcommittee member, declared Vaughan should be "invited" to tell names of all the people he knows are engaged in this racket. Mundt said:

"In view of the President's reported desire to go into this matter thoroughly, it is inconceivable that his aide would refuse to come to the hearings. The White House should prove to be a rich mother lode of information for us."

Nationalization Of Steel Industry In Britain Planned

LONDON, July 21.—(INS)—The House of Lords today handed back to the House of Commons a heavily-amended version of the labor government's bill nationalizing Britain's iron and steel industry.

The upper house completed action on the measure last night, revising the bill in 13 major particulars including one amendment which would delay the effective date of the nationalization until after the next general election.

In the course of stormy debate in the House of Lords, Lord Woolton prophesied that the bill would bring economic disaster to Britain and would damage the trade union movement.

Commons is expected to knock out most of the amendments and the bill may come into force May 1, 1950.

Reports Dredging Of Creek To Start About August 4

Dredging of Neshannock creek between points south of the South Jefferson street and north of the South Mill street bridges, for a proposed span from Grove street extension to a point near South Jefferson street, will begin no later than August 4, according to Mayor John F. Haven.

He received this information yesterday in a conference between Messrs. Brown, engineer of the State Water Power Resources Board and Dilley, who will be foreman in charge of the dredging.

The city recently appropriated about $22,000, to the state which will pay for hauling the dirt dredged from the creek to city-owned property. This is the only cost to the city.

It is reported that about four feet of the stream bed will be removed.

Five Are Killed As Trailer-Truck Topples On Auto

Trailer-Truck Loaded With Steel Crushes Auto In New Jersey Accident

SIXTH PERSON IN CRASH BADLY HURT

RAHWAY, N. J., July 21.—(INS)—Five persons were crushed and burned to death early today, police reported, when a trailer-truck loaded with steel toppled over on a private automobile on Highway 25 at Rahway. A sixth person was injured critically.

Rahway police said the exact circumstances of the accident still were being investigated. But they said a preliminary inquiry indicated the car was set afire, and all but one of its six occupants died before they could be pulled free.

Five Victims

The five persons killed were identified as Gilbert Brown, a Rahway policeman; Edna Parks, Otis Pearl, William Beilinger, and Willie Lee Baskerville, all of Rahway.

Sole survivor among the auto's six occupants was identified as Lawrence Bellinger. He was taken to a hospital with critical burns.

The truck driver, identified by police as Reuben Chloskey, of Baltimore, was not injured. He was held temporarily on a technical charge, for questioning. His truck, according to police, was owned by the W. T. Cowan Transportation Co., of Baltimore.

Says Soviets Are Still Aiming At Ruling World

BERLIN, July 21.—(INS)—U. S. Military Governor John J. McCloy says the Soviets are still bent on supremacy in Germany and "expanding their spheres of influence and domination throughout the world."

McCloy made the assertion in an exclusive interview with International News Service last night. Earlier in the day, the West Berlin commandants had protested to the Russian high command that the Soviet-controlled rail directorate had "clearly violated" the recent Western Berlin rail strike settlement.

In a letter from the Western powers, the directorate was charged with defaulting on its promise to pay sixty per cent of the workers wages in West marks. Rail union leaders have threatened to strike again if the promise is not fulfilled.

Break Appears In Ranks Of Strikers On London Docks

LONDON, July 21.—(INS)—A break appeared in the solid front of striking London dock workers today when 1,000 employees at the West India docks in the Millwall section voted to return to work.

Only three dissenting votes were cast. The workers decided to defer their return until the vote is ratified at a mass meeting tomorrow.

Meanwhile, 2,000 more troops were moved into the dock area bringing the number of soldiers, sailors and airmen unloading the ships to 11,000.

The dock labor board announced that 15,644 men are involved in the stoppage, idling 25 ships and leaving three undermanned.

Storms Kill Seven In New England

BOSTON, July 21.—(INS)—Fierce electrical, rain and wind storms killed seven persons and caused more than one million dollars crop damage in New England yesterday and last night.

Five persons died in Massachusetts and two in Maine. Four of the victims were drowned; an eight-year-old child was killed by a lightning bolt; an elderly man collapsed and died when caught by the storm on a golf course, and a mechanic was electrocuted while working on a truck.

Apparently the most severe crop damage was to Connecticut's "tobacco belt" where the loss approached an estimated $1,000,000.

States hardest hit by the summer storms—which failed to break the current heat wave—were Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire and Rhode Island.

President Declares Atomic Secrets Will Not Be Given To Other Nations

RATIFICATION OF ATLANTIC PACT SEEN (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(INS)—President Truman assured the Senate today that the United States is under no obligation to provide atomic information on A-bombs to other countries under the North Atlantic pact.

Senate GOP Foreign Policy Leader Vandenberg of Michigan joined the president in this view. But Sen. Wherry (R) Neb., called on the upper chamber to specifically ban any sharing of atomic weapons under the alliance.

The atomic issue was injected into the last day of Senate consideration of the pact. A final vote on ratification is slated for late today after the Senate has voted on proposed reservations to the treaty.

WASHINGTON, July 21.

(INS)—President Truman declared today that Senate fears that atomic secrets would be given to other countries under the North Atlantic Pact are entirely unfounded.

The president was told of Senate Minority Leader Wherry's demand for a guarantee that atomic secrets would not be passed on, before the treaty is acted upon.

Mr. Truman told his news conference that Wherry's fears were unfounded. His answer was terse.

The president simply said that he understands Mr. Wherry has a lot of unfounded fears.

A last-minute conflict over whether the treaty obligates the United States to share its atomic bomb stockpile and "know-how" with the other 11 signatories, arose unexpectedly Wednesday night.

Denies Aid Provided

Sen. McMahon (D) Conn., chairman of the Senate-Atomic committee, denied the alliance calls for atomic aid to co-signers. However, he said the question could more properly be discussed when the arms-for-Europe program which is to implement the pact, goes before Congress.

Senate GOP Floor Leader Wherry (R) Neb. declared:

The union said Michael McFarlen, president of the radiomen's group, was fired yesterday after he refused to accept a flight for which he had not put in a bid.

McFarlen also said AOA refused to sign a contract with the union which would bring working conditions of radio officers to a par with the rest of the commercial airlines industry.

New Drug Treatment For Rural Students Molars Next Fall

HARRISBURG, July 21.—(INS)—The state health department today blueprinted a $12,100 plan to improve the teeth of school children in the rural areas through applications of sodium fluoride.

The drive gets underway with the new school term in the fall, according to Secretary Norris W. Vaux.

"The effectiveness of sodium fluoride applied to the enamel of children's teeth has now been amply demonstrated by research and confirmed by extensive clinical experience," Vaux stated.

Sodium fluoride swabbed on teeth of youngsters, dentists say, reduces the development of tooth decay from 40 to 50 per cent.

Application of sodium fluoride to teeth was demonstrated during the past school term in Bethlehem, Pottsville, Williamsport, Annapolis, York, State College and Allentown by the U. S. public health service.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(INS)—Sen. Wherry (R) Neb., asked the Senate today to ban any sharing of the atomic bomb under the Atlantic pact despite President Truman's assurance that the treaty will not affect the U. S. atomic monopoly.

The president told his news conference that Senate fears that the atomic bomb would be shared with the 11 other signatories of the pact are entirely unfounded.

But Wherry told the Senate that the mutual aid program outlined by the pact means sharing of the best modern weapons the United States possesses. He said that "certainly we can all agree" that the atomic bomb "is a most effective weapon."

However, each is to take such action as it "deems necessary" to repel an attack. Friends of the treaty argued that this is an "escape" clause which prevents an automatic declaration of war by the U. S. if a signator is attacked.

Wherry declared there is "evidence" in the debate which would "morally justify the secretary of state or a future secretary of state to provide military assistance in the form of atomic weapons" to the co-signers.

didn't leave the inside of the counter by a gate; instead he jumped over the counter, left the store and walked west in Produce street.

In the meanwhile, Walczak had left the office, and travelled through the rear of the liquor store to the Dufford Furniture store and told a woman employee, the liquor store was being held up.

She telephoned police headquarters.

After the man left, Manager De Mauro also telephoned police.

After receiving the first call, Lieutenants Jones and Kennedy, Captain McMullen and Patrolmen Goodman, Lene, Golis, Farrow and Reese went to the scene of the hold-up.

Appeared Intoxicated

William Whitworth of West North street, who was gathering rubbish at a store in an alley between East Washington and Produce street, told police he saw the man walk through Wilson's parking lot toward E. Washington street.

He said the man appeared to be in an intoxicated condition.

Police reported this morning they were investigating a Beaver county colored man who earlier in the day had applied for employment at the liquor store.

In the store at the time of the hold-up were Manager Frank De Mauro, Marion Porter, Stephanie Korzek, Edward Walczak, Sarah Crawford, John Porter, Viola De Mauro and Laura Purdy.

Employees of the store described the bandit, as follows:

Colored; age 35-40; height 5 feet 10 inches; weight, 170; complexion, dark; face, drawn; hat, dark brown; coat, brown sport shirt, blue, open at neck. The man had paint spots on his face.

Robbery in Sharon

Three hours and 45 minutes later, or at 6:45 p. m., a colored man, about 35 years of age, robbed the Sharon State Liquor store of $880. It is reported.

The latter's description, insofar as clothing, weight, height and facial appearance goes, does not fit the New Castle bandit.

The Sharon bandit was described as follows:

Colored; age 35-40; height, 5 feet 7 inches; weight, 150; moustache; hat, grey; blue suit coat; brown trousers; brown sport shirt, no tie. Carried an automatic revolver.

"Will you invite him to a second meeting?" he was asked.

The President laughed and said that he would attend to that when the matter comes up again.

Mr. Truman insisted that the purpose of the meeting was relatively unimportant. This was his own phrase. He said that would become apparent later when all the rumors and speculation about the nature of the meeting have cleared away.

"BLAIR" HOUSE PLAN IS BEING RESHUFFLED

"arrangement" must either be a treaty ratified by the House or an "international agreement approved by the Congress."

On the Senate floor, Chairman McMahon (D) Conn., of the Senate House Atomic Committee, indicated that the plan ties in with the Atlantic Pact implementation by saying that it should not be discussed until the arms program is taken up.

Pressing For Understanding

Two atomic committee meetings this week, on the heels of the Blair House parley, indicated that the administration is pressing for a speedy understanding with Congressional leaders on the issue.

It became increasingly clear on Capitol Hill that the Blair House proposal goes beyond merely imparting atomic know-how to Britain.

In two statements, Atomic Committee Chairman McMahon (D) Conn., an administration supporter, referred to relations in the field of atomic energy.

In neither statement did he say that the proposal is limited to the exchange of information. But he hinted at that in his first statement by referring to a "limited number of areas of information" in which the countries presently are co-operating.

Observers are sure that if only exchange of information were involved, McMahon would have said so plainly in order to minimize as much as possible the Capitol Hill opposition.

Further, power-short Britain scarcely could afford to divert into atomic weapons program the tremendous amount of industrial energy necessary to large-scale bomb production.

the bold upsurge of gangsterism which marked the shooting from ambush of Cohen and three other persons. The latter included an official bodyguard from the California state attorney general's office. The shooting occurred on Hollywood's gay Sunset strip before dawn yesterday.

Demand Action

As the manhunt for the would-be killers spread, aroused citizens demanded stamping out of the rising tide of crime typified by the gangland assassination attempt and revelations before the current Los Angeles county grand jury of tieups between police and vice.

Developments in the wake of the second effort within a year to eliminate Cohen included:

1. A conference of 15 top-level state, county and city law enforcement agencies called by California Attorney General Fred N. Hovater to lay new groundwork for a far-reaching investigation into gangsterism and crime.

2. Announcement by Grand Jury Foreman Harry A. Lawson, that Hovater may be subpoenaed to tell why he asked law enforcement agencies to "lay off" Cohen while he was accompanied by a state special agent, described by the mob boss as his "baby sitter."

3. Announcement by Adm. William H. Standley, chairman of Gov. Earl Warren's Crime commission, that the group will meet soon to consider the assassination attempt.

Effigy Of Robeson Floats Down River

Veterans' Demonstration Is Made Against Robeson At Newark, N. J.

NEWARK, N. J., July 21.—(INS)—An effigy of baritone Paul Robeson, floated down the Passaic river today following a veterans' demonstration against him as he spoke at the Mosque Theatre, Newark, N. J., last night.

Robeson was booed by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and disabled American veterans outside the hall where he delivered an address before the Civil Rights Congress, listed by the government as a subversive organization.

The meeting was in protest against the continued prosecution of the "Trenton Six," six Negroes originally condemned to die in the slaying of a Trenton shopkeeper and now awaiting a new trial.

Some 500 pickets outside the Mosque Theatre last night chanted "Go back to Russia! We don't need you here! Get out of New Jersey!"

Before the effigy of Robeson, a native of New Jersey, was committed to the river, Claude Jones, 19-year-old Negro member of the VFW, blew taps over it.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

President Truman put it mildly when he said internal conflicts "appear" to be increasing in Russian-controlled eastern Europe, where Communist carpetbaggers replaced Nazi freebooters. Yugoslavia, among the first swallowed by Moscow-trained Communists, has revolted against the Kremlin in a bitter Communist family quarrel.

Czechoslovakia, latest to be seized by a Communist minority, is proving to be somewhat indigestible—mainly due to uncompromising resistance by Roman Catholics.

President Truman, in seeking support for the North Atlantic Pact and the Marshall Plan relief billions, said world communism eventually would "destroy itself" unless it dropped its conquest aims in "the battle for men's minds."

On the basis of past dictatorship history this may be true, but the suffering millions in Europe fear that once a rigid Communist government has gained control of children for several decades it can control them forever.

That "get 'em while they are young" formula was used by the Nazis with results whereby fathers were jailed or executed for their political beliefs when turned in by "informers" sons.

President Truman said the world Communist conquest attempt is based on a program of "torture, political assassination, lies, propaganda and hysteria."

He was referring to the grim four years of postwar history in which men like Nikola Petkov, great Bulgarian democratic leader and last big obstacle to communism, was put to death on a treason charge by the late Georgi Dimitroff.

Dimitroff was one of the Kremlin-trained Communist leaders sent into Bulgaria to rule on the strength of conquering Red Army bayonets that swept on westward to Berlin.

President Truman also was referring to scores of patriots in many lands who aided both Russia and the Western Allies to triumph over Nazism, only to be conquered and killed by Communist minority-backed of course by Soviet troops.

Josef Cardinal Mindszenty is serving a life term in Hungary. Protestant ministers have been jailed in Bulgaria; the Catholic leadership has been crushed in Romania; Poland's clergy feel a blow is imminent; Catholic leaders in Czechoslovakia have been branded "traitors" because they are forced to resort to an "underground mimeograph" machine to fight the suppression of their religion.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TEACH CHILD TO MANAGE MONEY

You who have been reading this column for years know that every year then I have entreated parents to teach their children thrift by precept and example. I pleaded for thrift during the war not only to help win the war but to build better character and citizenship for peace. I pleaded for thrift in the days of big and easy money following the war and have been pleading for thrift since prices and jobs have begun to drop a bit.

While most of us see no good reason for a depression we can be very sure that there is going to be less money to spend in the not-so-far distant future than many of us and our children have been accustomed to. Already many youths who graduated from high school or college last June are not finding jobs, even part-time jobs, some of the same youths who only a few years ago were earning fabulous wages at working during odd hours, and spending most of it on luxuries and passing pleasures.

Economic Pinch

When the family income suddenly and seriously shrinks, more than economic pinch ensues. There arise all sorts of emotional problems, through thwarting of the parents' dreams and of their children's wishes. There are more family tensions and conflicts.

Younger children accustomed to having chewing gum, soda, ice cream or candy any time they asked for it, and to having expensive clothes and playthings lavished on them, with plenty of pocket money to spend as they pleased, won't easily understand and be willing to face stern denials if the shrinking purse requires it.

Older children used to having fat allowances or lots of money doled out to them for ready spending, many of whom easily supplemented this spending money from earnings at odd hours won't find it easy to be satisfied when their parents have less money to give them and when these youths are less able to earn money for themselves.

Yesterday is past. Parents who face a sadly shrinking income can't go back and live over with their children the days that are gone. The stern problem is of today. The more squarely the parents face this problem the better for them and their children—the less emotional pain for all concerned. Wisely these parents will explain to the child what has happened. The younger child won't find the facts easy to understand and the older child, after so many years of luxury, may still feel resistant when he does understand.

But many parents, alas, will choose to endure dire deprivations themselves rather than to reveal the facts before their children. They just can't bear to have their children know the facts and possibly relay them to the neighbors. The agonies some parents will endure to conceal such facts from their children is indescribable.

Bearing such suffering in secret these parents have their own emotional health and personality and, indirectly, their children's and in the long run, the whole family relationships. Even parents who might never feel an economic pinch over shrinking incomes and who hope to leave their children a legacy have a good reason to educate their children in thrift in order to be worthy of this legacy and use it wisely.

Right now is the time for all parents to exercise reason and economies. Most young parents should set their sights lower re-

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

One of the country's well-known magicians lodged a complaint with the Philadelphia police.

He had parked his car in a downtown street to get something to eat.

When he came out he found that thieves had broken into the car and stolen all his paraphernalia, including not only the mysterious black cloth, the paper flowers and trick cards, but also high silk hat out of which in full sight of the audience he pulls a beautiful snarling rabbit, although it was empty a moment ago.

To make the crime complete, even the rabbit which he kept in a crate on the back seat had disappeared.

With a smile the police lieutenant told him: "Well, if you are such a wonderful magician, why don't you just wave your wand and presto, all the stuff comes back."

But, alas! the magic wand had also been stolen by the vile felon, who, by now, has either got a job as a magician or at least has eaten the rabbit.

However, I am sorry for the poor performer just as I am sorry for anybody else who considers himself a magician and then finds out that, without his tricks, he is no smarter than you or I.

There is a difference, though, between us and a magician.

At least, the magician isn't kidding himself.

He knows that he is a faker and that all that abracadabra stuff is just a lot of stage nonsense.

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Gen. Ike Surprises Politicians

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The close wartime alliance between Great Britain and the United States is fast becoming a bickering and suspicious relationship that threatens to break out in something very much like a cold war. This is the unhappy reality little more than four years after V-E Day.

It is nowhere better illustrated than in the sharp controversy over what atomic information shall be sent from the United States to Britain and Canada. That was the subject of the showdown session here last week as is now fairly widely known.

What has not been known is the surprising and dramatic turn that that conference took. Chairman David Lilienthal of the Atomic Energy Commission was prepared to defend the position taken by the commission in favor of a generous policy of sharing information with British scientists now at work on their own atomic energy project.

Lilienthal from the beginning, as he has made clear in his public statements, favored continuing the wartime partnership in which British scientists worked side by side with American and Canadian scientists at the Los Alamos, N. M., atomic laboratory.

He opposed Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, head of the Manhattan project during the war, who wanted to keep all secret technical developments for America's sole use.

Need Ally In Britain

"Gentlemen, I'm not an expert in these matters yet," said Groves. "But I have some experience in this field. Once in my lifetime I have had to direct the landing of troops in Europe."

"That was possible because we had a wartime ally in Great Britain. I would like to have anyone tell me how troops can be landed anywhere in Eurasia unless we have an ally in Britain."

What he said that evening, Eisenhower often has said before. It mutual self-interest must hold the British and the American peoples together. Above all, as Eisenhower sees it, the English-speaking peoples must cherish together the heritage of freedom that they share.

In his book, "Crusade in Europe," Lilienthal stressed that the terms of an alliance cannot be spelled out in minute detail. They must rest on mutual trust and confidence.

"Don't the British need us?" one of the Blair House conferees interposed.

"Yes," said Eisenhower quietly, "and we need them."

Eisenhower has, of course, no sympathy with the British socialist experiment, as he is quick to add. But in the crucible of war he learned that no nation can live alone in this age of speed faster than sound.

The politicians are always being surprised by General Ike, perhaps because he has the unusual habit of saying what he really believes. And they got still another surprise the other night when he let go with what is one of his truest and deepest convictions—that mutual trust, without haggling, is the only basis for partnership.

GOLFERS LUCK

Fisherman's luck, as men often say,
Is having the big ones get away;
But golfer's luck is a long,
Straight drive
And then three putts for a losing five.

No tailor, fashioning suits to sell,
Can do such work as Old Sol can.
For never a garment fits so well
For summer wear as a coat of tan.

From time to time faults we've

But judgment to be no worse

From Me To You

By MESEALL

So you go out and raise a large crop of wheat . . . the price let's say was 2 dollars a bushel . . . but the crop was excellent . . . you and all your neighbors and all the wheat growers for miles around find that you have so much wheat you don't know where to put it . . . You sell your wheat to the consumer . . . that is, you try to sell your wheat . . . your neighbor down the road started to sell his at 1.50 per bushel . . . you sell yours at 1.40 . . . and the price goes around and finally settles down on the market at 1.30 . . . You needn't worry . . . the government has guaranteed that you will get 2.00 bucks. Subsidizing . . . who pays the difference? The TAX PAYER.

The U. S. News and World Report recently published a statement that the average American will pay $363.00 in taxes for being governed this year. Of that amount $270.00 goes to the Federal Government and $93.00 to state and local units . . . The same report states that back in 1915 the average American federal tax bill was $6.94. The first World War sent it up to $51.82. During the golden year of 1928 it was a modest $30.32. In the first year of the New Deal it was $40.95 . . . Last year the figure was $268.00.

What our administration is trying to demonstrate is that the individual as well as the nation can eat its cake and have it too. Unfortunately, we have no precedent to go by, because no nation in the history of the world was ever foolish enough to bleed itself white for the purpose of helping other and even hostile nations.

We are somewhat in the position of a well-meaning but screwy father with a lot of money and a houseful of wild kids who continuously get into trouble. The old man always comes to their rescue, goes their bail, pays for their escapades and gets them out of jail; while they at the same time upbraid and ridicule him. He keeps this up until his fortune is spent and he winds up in the poorhouse with his kids who are still out of jail, throwing rocks through the windows at him.

Riding High Over Atlantic

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

When you dear, gracious, lovely people read this, I will be high over the Atlantic—and you can take that any way you choose.

First stop the Azores. Next stop Lisbon. I have never been to Lisbon, but from reading about it I gather that Portugal's capital city is one of the most sophisticated towns in all the world.

That's for me.

Ever since I was a wee tot, chopping cotton under a hot Georgia sun, I have dreamed of becoming a boulevardier. I intend to become one in Lisbon. Afternoons will find me strolling the broad boulevards, swinging my gold-headed cane, curling the ends of my moustache, giving merry glances to the girls, and stopping now and then to put the bite on generous friends. The evenings will find me on all fours, under the gaming tables in the Estoril, looking for money.

Dreamed Of Being Explorer

Mornings will find me asleep in the park, or jesting and joking with the policemen as they rap the soles of my feet with their stout clubs. As soon as I have conquered Lisbon and worn out my welcome there, I will continue on to Africa.

When I was an even wee-er tot than when I was dreaming of becoming a Lisbon boulevardier, I dreamed of being an African explorer. The same Christmas that I found a subscription to the Racing Form in my stocking, I also found a book telling of Livingstone and Stanley before I told all my classmates in the south Georgia Reform School that some time I would go to Africa and explore it. They all laughed, and I only wish I knew their addresses today so that I could cable them collect from Dakar, Accra, Leopoldville and Johannesburg and let them know that at least one little thug made his dreams come true.

Cool In Africa Now

I understand it's cool in Africa at this time of the year, but that's not keeping me from carrying the sort of clothes I think one should wear in Africa.

With me I have six pith helmets and sufficient leaves to stuff them with to combat the tropic sun. The leaves I stole from Central Park in New York, and I plan to leave the leaves in Africa as a goodwill gesture. Who knows but what the leaves will grow into mighty trees, and that centuries from now Africans will point to the trees and say that they were given to their continent by an intrepid explorer named McLEMORE.

Pith helmets are not all I am carrying, either. I am carrying a blowgun and 200 poison-dipped arrows so that if anybody shouts at me I can shoot back just as deadly. I am also carrying with me a working knowledge of mumbo-jumbo. People have told me that mumbo-jumbo is not spoken in Africa any more, but I don't believe it. When I plunge into the bush on one of the four or five hundred safaris I intend to make, I want to be prepared to pass the time of day with any member of any obscure tribe I might run across.

Three Elephant Guns

I am taking three elephant guns—one for real big elephants, one for medium-sized elephants, and one for elephants which are either on a diet or are just naturally small. I am also carrying an unfurnished game room with me so that as soon as I bag a wild beast I can put a pigmy who has some money but doesn't know how to play poker.

I hope I don't bore you with my plans. I also hope that I won't bore you with the columns I will be sending back from the far shores. The chances are, however, that I am. So I'd better stop now. You can bore readers just so far, and no farther. After that you're liable to find yourself with no readers.

Bon voyage. Have a good time while I'm gone. If anything comes up for which you need me, please don't let me hear from you. I have enough troubles of my own.

NEW YORK, July 21.—(INS)—A large cigar came into the office a few hours ago, supported and followed by a man who looks like Lo, the rich Indian.

As a result, I have an interim report on the state of affairs in Texas City, Texas, a community of which I am an adopted citizen. Everything, by the way, is fine in this Texas Gloccamora.

But a long overdue interim report is also indicated on the seegar and its smoker, A. H. (Swede) Sandberg, president of the Texas City Terminal Railway Co., on whose business he has come east to hawksawgle any dam Yankees available.

Sight for Sore Eyes

Swede and his seegar are a sight for sore eyes to myself and some other 200 equally grateful citizens who, thanks to him, are walking around sniffing daisies these days instead of pushing them up.

The overwhelming extent of the explosions and fire that razed so much of this port city two years ago last April 16 obscured the fact that Swede bullied 200 persons out of the dock area only a few moments before the second ship blew up, rocked the town and finished leveling the area where the 200 had been hacking away at the wreckage in rescue work.

"I only did what any sensible man would do," Swede snarled behind his cigar today when I introduced my hero around the office.

But the fact remains that Swede was the only man in the dock area that night who realized that the second ship, the High Flyer, was going to explode in exactly the same way as the French freighter Grandcamp had done seventeen hours earlier.

How Did He Know?

And how did he know? Because Swede had been blown up, in his office in the dock area, when the Grandcamp spread such terrible death and devastation through the small town. Or rather, his office fell on him to such an extent that the first time I saw Swede he looked like the lead in "The Ghost Goes West."

His head and face were entirely swathed in white surgical gauze. There were just three openings in the mask: Two for his bloodshot eyes and one for his seegar. The Texas City doctor who had wrapped him up after the first explosion was an old friend who knew that nothing could kill this big Swede except separation from his seegars.

But it was Swede's home town that had been blown up. Every officer of his company had been killed except Swede. Hundreds of his friends were dead and injured. And when the doctor told Swede to go home to bed, Swede shrugged him off and went back to the docks to help direct the rescue work.

He was still that at 1 a. m., after the first explosion at 9:12 the previous morning—he and 200 other civilian, army and navy rescue workers.

Suddenly, Swede's tobacco bass was ordering everyone in the area to run for his life.

"Don't argue. Run!" bawled Swede at the top of his lungs. "This ship is going to go. Run!"

It was a voice of both doom and authority.

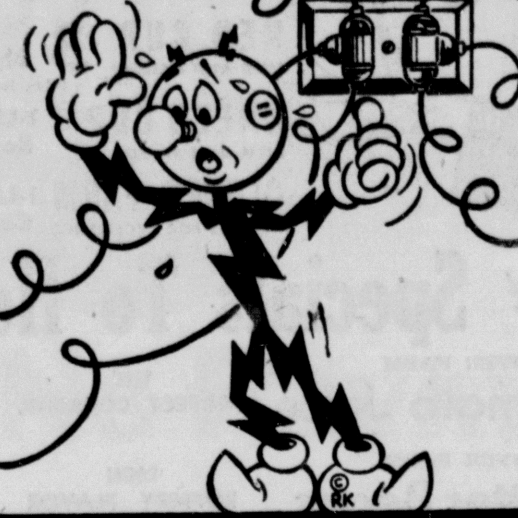

This was no time to ask questions or quibble. We all took to our heels with an enthusiasm and speed that amazed many of us later on when we talked it over.

The result was that every man Jack was out of the worst of the danger area when the High Flyer flew apart with the force and roar of the Grandcamp.

When I asked Swede a week later how he knew the High Flyer was going to explode, he said it was quite simple.

"The same funny vapor was escaping from the ship in the same patterns that came out of the Grandcamp," he explained.

"Of course, I couldn't be certain that the High Flyer was going to explode. But I already had one head in bandages and I didn't want to risk the other."

communism better in some cases than their past administrations. Russia has played on the fear of the American-owned atomic bomb and gained even the support of some intellectuals.

Perhaps the most stinging rebuke to the Russians, however, comes from Soviet-ruled east Germans who already have endured one catastrophic era of dictatorship.

Without going into the argument over whether the Germans are finished with dictatorship the fact remains that they are growing more restive and bolder under the noses of the Russians, according to available reports.

The east Germans also cast one third of their votes against the Communists in recent elections, and it is believed that the total was much higher but hidden by convincing Communist juggling of the returns which they controlled.

City Manager Plan Will Grow

Director Of Municipal Affairs Bureau Of State Sees New Demand

NEED FOR MOVE IS POINTED OUT

By JOHN HARMS (L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, July 21.—The growing complexity of local government today foreshadowed general acceptance of career managers to direct municipal affairs. The trend was outlined by H. F. Alderfer, director of the municipal affairs bureau in the state department of internal affairs. Up to the present time approximately 45 Pennsylvania municipalities have turned to the managerial form of local government, he reported. These are all boroughs and townships. Legislation enabling cities to appoint managers has not been successful, but experts predict should Philadelphia elect to set up a managerial form a rash of such moves will sweep the state. A city charter commission is studying an overhaul of the state's largest city's government, in line with enabling legislation adopted by the 1949 General Assembly. The committee of 70, an influential civic organization, has urged the charter group to consider a city manager type of government for Philadelphia.

Reasons For Trend

Alderfer gave the following reasons for the trend toward the manager: "Pennsylvania municipalities in the next 10 years will be called upon to render more services, their revenues from real estate will decline, migration outside municipal boundaries will continue, industrial strife will tax their ability to maintain law and order, the need for modern housing and transportation as well as sewage disposal facilities and other public works will increase. "It is necessary, therefore, for local governments to have available modern tools for competent administration and the manager form of government is one of them," he declared. Alderfer said the main obstacle at present to wider acceptance of managers is inertia—"Local communities have struggled through for many years on the commissioner type government and are reluctant to takeoff on a comparatively new tangent."

Politics Also Blamed

Lack of information and to some extent politics were other reasons cited as delaying the transformation. Pennsylvania stands seventh in the United States in the number of places operating under the management plan. Maine leads with 88 municipalities, Michigan 67, Texas 60, Virginia 52, California and Florida 48.

Edgeworth in Allegheny county was the first borough in the state to pioneer management of its affairs by a career civic manager when it adopted the plan in 1941.

Three boroughs and the state's only town, Bloomsburg, made the change in 1948. The boroughs were Quakertown, New Holland and Manheim.

A majority of managers in Pennsylvania are engineers by training, Alderfer said.

"In other words they are acting as engineers and have taken on additional managerial duties," he pointed out.

Average tenure of managers in the state was approximately 10 years with an average pay estimated at $2,000 to $3,000.

"The overwhelming majority of municipalities who have set up municipal management by manager have found it extremely successful," he said.

Local Sailors Are On Cruise

Two local youths, Frederick Budowski, seaman apprentice USN, son of Mrs. Josephine Budowski of Park avenue, and Norman Mayer, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mrs. Hazel Stewart of West Cherry street, are scheduled to arrive at Annapolis, Md., on July 25 from Portsmouth, England, after a 15-day stop at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, as crew members aboard the fast minelayer USS Shea.

Elmira, N. Y., is said to have been named for the daughter of an early settler whose name echoed through the valley when her mother called her.

Steel Labor Truce Won't Send Sales Zooming Skyward

NEW YORK, July 21.—(INS)—The magazine Iron Age said Wednesday that the steel labor truce will not send steel sales zooming skyward, but it should mean a temporary pickup in the industry.

It explained that some buyers will begin watching low inventories more carefully to keep from being caught short in case of a deadlock this September. In addition, some orders that were to be placed this fall will be entered now.

The national metalworking weekly reported that the biggest demand for steel to counter last week's strike threat came from the automobile industry. It said that this week, no major automobile producer has less than 30 days steel on hand, and some items are expected to last 90 days.

Iron Age pointed out that if there is a peaceful settlement on steel labor in September, the period following may see a sharp drop in steel orders and production—and perhaps a crack in prices.

It said that major producers of carbon steel have not changed their minds about holding the price line at the moment, observing that a price cut would leave the union cold and might have very little effect on the fact-finding board.

Iron Age announced that the industry is set to operate at 78½ per cent of capacity this week, half a point above the figure at which steel companies planned to operate last week.

However, it said the steel companies operated at only 75 per cent of capacity last week, because of the loss caused by banking blast

Game Commission Bid For Meadville War Plant Rejected

HARRISBURG, July 21.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Game Commission's $90,594 bid for 10,066 acres comprising the Keystone Ordnance Works in Crawford county has been rejected by the Federal Land Bank of Baltimore, Md.

Executive Director Thomas D. Frye said the commission will not enter another bid. He said the bank notified the commission its bid was too low and that the entire plot would be sold in parcels.

The commission planned to buy the plot and rent portions, which could not be used for game purposes, to farmers.

Today's Fashion Flash

NEW YORK, July 21.—(INS)—Women who lose one earring can make good use of the left-over one next fall—thanks to a new trend in hats.

The smartest New York millionaires today are showing side-tilt hats that completely cover one ear.

They advise women to wear a single earring—as large as possible—to balance the one-sided effect.

The side-tilt hats are usually simple but large berets that flop almost to shoulder level on the right side. Because of their simplicity, they are adaptable to either formal or informal wear—depending upon the character of the earring that's worn with them.

Government To Make Farm Drought Loans

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(INS)—Agriculture Secretary Brannan Wednesday authorized the Farmers' Home Administration to make special "disaster" loans to farmers in Connecticut.

The loans are designed to help farmers recoup losses from the severe northeastern drought where commercial credit facilities are inadequate.

At the same time, an agriculture spokesman said that Brannan is considering "disaster" loans for farmers in New Hampshire, Vermont and additional Massachusetts counties.

New Jersey Mayor's Charges Challenged

LAVALLETTE, N. J., July 21.—(INS)—Lavallette Mayor William Chandler's charge that loose-living teen-agers have made a "sin city" out of his small beach community was challenged today by the Chamber of Commerce.

Among charges made by the mayor and the chief of the six-man police force, Joseph Borelli, were:

That 70 boys and girls were rounded up and sent home to their parents after being caught in "flagrantly compromising" situations.

That at one rented cottage shared by members of a fraternity and a sorority, nude girls were found "parading brazenly" to the showers in full view of the boys.

That teen-agers staged all-night beach "orgies."

But according to Leslie W. Toop, president of the Chamber of Commerce, the mayor over-stated the case. Said Toop:

"Grossly Exaggerated" "All grossly exaggerated. I've had no complaints nor have I seen anything wrong." Nevertheless, Mayor Chandler and Chief Borelli said they are determined to correct the situation. The mayor is demanding a city ordinance making it obligatory for every cottage being used by teen-agers to have at least one parent on hand to act as chaperone at all times.

Chief Borelli indicated that a virtual ban already has been clamped on cottages-for-teens. He said:

"We're taking them in only if they're properly chaperoned, or are members of family groups. By August we hope to have an ordinance passed making the real estate agent or landlord responsible for tenants' behavior."

Hard Rock Miners Puzzled Over Drop In Metal Prices

Metal Prices Usually Among Last To Feel Slump; First This Time

SALT LAKE CITY, July 21.—(INS)—There's a big question in the minds of hard rock miners and thousands of others in Utah and western states where non-ferrous metal production is a big industry. It's this:

Usually, metal prices are among the last to feel a slump. Why were they the first this time?

It's a question without an answer in the west, and hard times have come to thousands of "hard rockers."

No definite figures are available, but estimates on unemployment among metal miners in western states reach the 10,000 figures. Within a matter of weeks, scores of marginal producers have closed down. Towns dependent upon the miners are shrouded in gloom.

It began early in March. Prices began falling. From 21.5 cents per pound March 8 lead dropped to 12 cents in three months. Zinc fell from 17.5 cents to 9 cents, and copper from 23.5 to 16.

Operators claim prices were all that dropped—that labor, equipment and smelting cost remained high. Only the bigger companies with custom smelting and fabricating—like Anaconda and Kennecott—kept going. In some cases, these cut down the work week.

James K. Richardson, manager of the Utah Mining association, said "The situation is of extreme importance in Utah, where private surveys have shown about the half the population is directly or indirectly supported by non-ferrous mining."

State's Program To Clear Clarion River Initiated

HARRISBURG, July 21.—(INS)—A near two million dollar anti-pollution program of the New York and Pennsylvania Company Paper Mill at Johnsonburg today was hailed as a great contribution to cleaning up the Clarion river.

The Sanitary Water Board said the program "will have beneficial results" for communities along the stream and particularly for the city of Pittsburgh which obtains part of its water supply from the Clarion river.

More than three million gallons of waste waters daily from paper making machines will be treated before released into the Clarion, the board said.

Ill Barbara Hutton Seeks Son's Custody

DEHAM, Mass., July 21.—(INS)—A petition filed in Norfolk probate court here claimed that Barbara Hutton Troubetzko, blonde heiress to the Woolworth millions, is a semi-invalid at her villa in Paris, France.

The petition, filed by counsel for Miss Hutton, asks that she be allowed to retain custody of her 13-year-old son, Lance Reventlow.

The attorneys said she recently has undergone four operations. Probate Judge Arthur W. Davis ordered that Lance, only son of the heiress by her first marriage to Count Ha ghwitz-Reventlow, Danish nobleman, will remain with his mother until September 15.

The father was scheduled to have custody of the boy for six weeks beginning July 27.

John J. Burns of Boston and John T. Cahill of New York, counsel for Miss Hutton, said she faces a long and difficult convalescence and has been forbidden by her physicians to make an ocean voyage.

Combine Crew 'Steals' Large Wheat Harvest

CHEYENNE WELLS, Colo., July 21.—(INS)—An overzealous combine crew has one of the most unusual "theft" cases in the history of Cheyenne Wells.

Sheriff Edward Byers of Cheyenne county, said a land gent told him he examined an 80-acre field of ripe wheat one afternoon.

"It was a beautiful stand of ripe golden grain. The next morning I looked and there was nothing but a field of stubble."

The "stolen" wheat was estimated at 2,400 bushels, valued at $4,800.

Byers, after an exhaustive probe, solved the case.

He said a combine crew, working for a neighboring farmer, harvested the field by mistake.

Panama Youngster Receives Reprieve From Government

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—(INS)—Victor Cattin, 10-year-old Panama youngster, thanked the Immigration bureau Wednesday for giving him a chance to walk without crutches.

The bureau ruled yesterday that Victor, a cripple from birth, can stay in Philadelphia until at least August 31. His passport visa had run out.

Victor came from Panama 18 months ago to the Shriners' hospital in Philadelphia and weathered six successful operations. But the passport issue threatened treatments which won't be completed until September.

Shriner officials appealed to government authorities, however, and the reprieve came through. And doctors say Victor may be able to run and walk and play just like other children.

Smallest Potato Crop In 50 Years Expected In State

HARRISBURG, July 21.—(INS)—Pennsylvania farmers can expect to harvest the smallest potato crop in more than 50 years unless weather conditions improve during the next two months, the State Agriculture department said Tuesday.

Potato crop estimates totaled 15-450,000 bushels as of July 1, the lowest since 1898 when spud production totaled only 14,235,000 bushels.

June weather was blamed largely for the short 1949 crop. Hot, dry weather and parched fields held growth well below that normally attained by July, the department said.

Acreage under 1948 Pennsylvania potato growers planted 103,000 acres this year—2,000 acres under 1948—and an anticipated a harvest of 19,000,000 bushels.

The 1948 crop totaled 19,425,000 bushels, compared with the 10-year average production of 19,275,000. Unfavorable weather caused growers to estimate their yield per acre at 150 bushels, 35 below the all-time record of 185 bushels established last year.

Rains recently tended to revive potato vines, the department said, but too much precipitation for the remainder of the growing season can be harmful. Potato blight usually is destructive during periods of excessive rain and high humidity, the department explained.

Woman Says Dentist Broke Hypodermic Needle In Mouth

WHEELING, W. Va., July 21.—(INS)—A suit for $30,000 damages was on file Wednesday against a Moundsville, W. Va., dentist who is charged with breaking a hypodermic needle in the mouth of a Tucson, Ariz., woman.

The complaint, which was filed in the U. S. District Court at Wheeling yesterday, charged that the broken piece of needle remains in the mouth of Mrs. Robert W. Kirby after a year.

Her lower jaw, according to the complaint filed by her husband, has grown to her cheek and makes it difficult for her to eat. The plaintiff also alleges that the needle was not the right type for an injection.

Kirby seeks $25,000 personal injuries for his wife, and $5,000 for medical and other expenses.

Probe Crash Killing Seven

Civil Aeronautics Board And Seattle Authorities Press Probe Of Air Liner Disaster

SEATTLE, July 21.—(INS)—The Civil Aeronautics Board and Seattle authorities today pressed an investigation into the flaming crash of an unscheduled air liner which killed seven persons.

The twin-engine, Chicago-bound C-46 fell in a residential section late Tuesday night shortly after taking off from King County Airport.

Five of the dead were residents of houses struck by the flaming plane as it plunged to earth. The two other dead were passengers on the transport. Thirty-two persons—28 passengers and four crew members—were aboard the plane. Thirty-five persons were injured when the plane ploughed into an apartment house and set fire to six other buildings near the airfield. A total of seven houses caught fire.

Hours after the crash, the gasoline in a wing tank exploded and injured six firemen battling the blaze.

Witnesses said the plane had reached an altitude of only 75 feet on the takeoff when the big craft lost headway, sheared off a telephone pole and smashed into the apartment house. A high tension power wire was also hit in the fatal dive of the plane.

Westinghouse And U.E. Negotiations Are Suspended

PITTSBURGH, July 21.—(INS)—The CIO-United Electrical Workers today had severed wage negotiations with the Westinghouse Electric Corp., after management flatly refused a fourth-round wage hike.

Westinghouse rejected the union's demand yesterday for a cost of living increase of $500 a year for its 90,000 employees, following the lead set by General Electric Corp., a week ago.

The union announced that negotiations had been suspended. Union officials said future action will be decided after a report to the membership.

Westinghouse denied the fourth-round wage increase, asserting as part of its reason decreased business and increased competition.

Twelve miles from what is now Pittsburgh, Gen. Edward Braddock and his troops were defeated in 1755, in the French and Indian war.

Israel Confesses Sins In Psalms

DAVID BEGS FORGIVENESS FOR TRANSGRESSIONS

Praying hands.

"For Thou, Lord, art good; and ready to forgive."—Psalm 86:5.

Scripture—Psalms 32; 51; 85:5; 130:1-5.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

In these days of post-war restlessness and crime, when every newspaper tells of theft, assault and murder, it is difficult to remember that the world is still in God's hands. Those who are committing these sins are still God's children, and they may seek forgiveness and yet be saved and become useful citizens.

King David, you remember, sinned grievously. He did not kill with his own hands, but he caused the husband of Bathsheba to be slain and so was guilty of murder. David repented his sin and begged for forgiveness in a Psalm we have for part of our lesson today. Bathsheba was the beautiful woman to whom David, the king, lost his heart. To obtain her for his wife he had her soldier husband placed by his commander in the forefront of the battle, so that he would be killed. David then wed Bathsheba, and she became the mother of Solomon.

We all have sinned, we all must seek forgiveness from God and our fellow-men. David was forgiven. We, too, will be if we sincerely repent and turn from our sins.

Psalms 32 is the second of the so-called Penitential Psalms. In it David speaks of the blessedness of forgiveness after the darkness of the hours in which he kept silent and brooded over his wickedness.

"Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered. When I kept my silence, my bones waxed old through my roaring all the day long. For day and night Thy hand was heavy upon me; my moisture is turned into the drought of summer. Selah."

"I acknowledged my sin unto Thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid. I said, I will confess my transgressions unto the Lord; and Thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin. Selah."

Even very little children are un- happy when they know they have done wrong. Schoolchildren know too well the feelings of shame and sadness when they have broken some school law, or cheated at some schoolyard game and offended their playmates.

How happy they feel when they have confessed that they were wrong, made amends, been forgiven and taken back into fellowship once more!

"Many sorrows shall be to the wicked; but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercy shall compass him about."

"Be glad in the Lord, and rejoice, ye righteous, and shout for joy, all ye that are upright in heart."

David's unhappiness and despair before the prophet Nathan awakened his conscience to the enormity of his evil deed, are beautifully portrayed in his cry to the Lord for mercy and prayer for forgiveness:

"Have mercy upon me, O God, according to Thy loving kindness: According to the multitude of Thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions."

"Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin for I acknowledge my transgressions; and my sin is ever before me."

"Purge with hyssop, and I shall be clean; wash me and I shall be whiter than snow."

"Make me to hear joy and gladness: that the bones which Thou hast broken may rejoice."

"Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me."

"O Lord, open Thou my lips; and my mouth shall show forth Thy praise."

"For Thou, Lord, art good, and ready to forgive, and plenteous in mercy unto all them that call upon Thee."

"Out of the depth have I cried unto Thee, O Lord. Lord, hear my voice; let Thine ears be attentive to the voice of my supplications."

"If Thou, Lord, should'st mark iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand? But there is forgiveness with Thee, that Thou mayest be feared."

"I wait for the Lord, my soul doth wait, and in His words do I hope."

PITTSBURGH, July 21.—(INS)—Daniel F. Hawes, 60, was killed yesterday when his car collided with a trailer truck on the Ohio River boulevard in nearby Glen Osborne.

Police said the trailer truck was overturned on the Pennsylvania railroad tracks which run alongside the road.

The driver of the truck, Paul S. Parson, 21, of Blairsville, Pa., was uninjured.

Hand Injured In Auto Accident

David H. Burkey, 40, of Littleton, R. D. 2, received treatment in the Jameson Memorial hospital for injuries to his right hand sustained at 1:15 a. m. today when his car, traveling west, along West Washington Street extension, one half mile from the city limits, struck a cement wall and overturned.

According to the State police, Burkey drove the car around a sharp turn and was unable to get the car straightened before it struck the wall.

Centennial Results In Research For Old County Statistics By Officers

SHERIFF PLANS NIGHT PATROLS

First day of September this year will mark the completion of the first 100 years of the life of the county. The Act of the General Assembly of 1849, erecting Lawrence county stipulated that on and after September 1, 1849, the people here were to be entitled to have all "the courts, jurisdictions, offices, rights, and privileges to which the inhabitants of other counties are entitled by the constitution and laws of this Commonwealth."

In searching the old records of 100 years ago, relating to the erection of the separate county (Lawrence) from portions of Mercer and Beaver counties, it appears that the first court of Lawrence county convened in the First Methodist Episcopal church on Jefferson street, on Monday, January 7, 1850, at half past eleven o'clock. Hon. John Bredin, president judge, and Hon. Jacob Baer, associate, presided at the first term of court.

Shortly after the birth of the county in 1849, Governor William F. Johnston appointed W. P. Buchanan, Esq., of New Castle, as a deputy to Cornelius Darragh, Esq., the attorney general of Pennsylvania, with orders to conduct all criminal prosecutions in Lawrence county. In 1850, James Pollock, Esq., was elected as Lawrence county's first district attorney.

PLANS PATROLS
Alarmed at the increase in rural robberies, Sheriff Frank L. Coen is staging night patrols, with the aid of constables and other officers, in an effort to curb the crime. In spite of the fact that seven arrests have already been made, the main gang of robbers seems to have eluded arrest.

The sheriff and State police are hopeful that a good clue will soon be secured as to the identity of those responsible for the robberies. They seem to know the territory pretty well, and the fact that householders are absent from home when they commit the jobs.

REGISTRATION STILL HEAVY
Registration of new voters still continues at a heavy rate. Chief Clerk A. Lewis Conn. of the permanent registration bureau states, 153 registrations having been made on Tuesday. Of this number 87 were Republicans, 64 Democrats, and two Independents. Five changed their registration from Democrat to Republican, and two from Republican to Democrat.

Night registration began last evening, when the number registering is expected to be larger. The registration office in the Court House will be open until 9 p. m. tonight, and also on Friday, Saturday, the office will be open until 6 p. m.

ROSS IS GRANDFATHER
Probation Officer Charles D. Ross was wearing a happy smile Wednesday, the occasion being the advent of his first grandchild, a girl, born to his son Charles Jr., and wife in the Ellwood City hospital.

EXONERATE TAX
Exoneration was granted the Samuel Dana estate on a property in the Second ward, on a house valued at $800, which was torn down in 1947. The fact was never recorded with the assessor, and exoneration was asked by the attorney for the estate, the request being granted.

Steeple Arrives But No Church Yet

STRATFORD, Conn., July 21.—(INS)—Stratford has a 104-year-old steeple, hand-hewn of white pine, but as yet no church to go with it.

The rest of the church is expected to come gradually from Brookfield, Vt., 250 miles away, where it has stood since 1845.

The Lordship Community church of Stratford found it would cost $60,000 to build a new edifice and has arranged to acquire the entire Brookfield church, instead. Even the stained glass windows will be moved, and the entire cost is estimated at only $30,000.

Government Witness Claims Tokyo Rose Was Eager Traitor

Former Superior Testifies That Accused Announcer Knew Objectives of Program

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—(INS)—The Tokyo Rose treason trial record contained Wednesday the strongest government testimony yet presented to prove that Iva Toguri D'Aquino knowingly betrayed her native United States.

The testimony was given in San Francisco federal court by George Mitsushio, a San Francisco-born Japanese who formally renounced his U. S. citizenship in order to fight for Japan on the radio propaganda front.

Mitsushio was the second radio

Tokyo official to take the stand against 33-year-old Mrs. D'Aquino. Heavy-jowled Mitsushio, 43, declared he and Mrs. D'Aquino's immediate superior worked side by side with her in the production of "Zero Hour" propaganda programs beamed to American and other allied troops in the South Pacific. He swore that the defendant had been explicitly informed of and had acknowledged the objectives of the broadcasts.

Defense counsel was expected to tear into Mitsushio today in an effort to shake his testimony which pictured sly-eyed Mrs. D'Aquino as a deliberate—even an eager—traitor.

LUCK NOT WITH HIM
CARATUNK, Me.—Only twice in 15 years have dwellings been destroyed by fire in this tiny village. Each time it was the home of David Pooler.

A record diving depth of 550 feet was reached in 1945.

The Battle of Gioletta, one of the important battles of the American Civil War, result of which was indecisive at first, ended in route of Confederate forces. This struggle ended the only serious attempt by the Confederates to invade the far west. The fighting took place at Apache Canon, near Santa Fe, N. M., and is called Apache Canon battle in northern reports.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, July 21.—Psychopathic cases still romp their merry, murderous way through motion pictures despite insistence of box-office experts that the public prefers seeing "Joe Blow, normal citizen," on the screen rather than "Joseph Bleau, screwball."

In other words, shades of Sigmund Freud have by no means been booted out of Hollywood. Psychos are in flower.

Louis Hayward is a current case in point.

In his present assignment, "House by the River" at Republic Studios, Louis kills a perfectly nice girl, stuffs her remains in a gunny sack and dumps it in the river. The weighted sack comes open and the sweet young thing's body pops back and yon with the floodtide, rudely distracting Hayward and keeping him from full concentration on his next murder.

Dorothy Patrick portrays the corpse and Jane Wyatt is the potential corpse.

Neurotics In Style

Hayward has been making like the original man with a hole in the head for a good many semesters. Some years ago he started out in "The Flame Within," when nervous breakdowns were comparatively new. Then he played swashbuckling roles of the Cavalier era.

Louis said today:

"It's rather interesting to note that my roles have brought me closer and closer to the present time, and in each picture I have become more and more neurotic. Only on the screen, he means."

Many films, including "Ivy," and "House by the River," seem to indicate that neurotic folks were in their heyday during the gay nineties.

It's reached a point where movie-makers are saying smugly:

"Of course we humans are not like that any more. Killing one's pals and in-laws was a quaint custom that went out with World War I. Nowadays when people go off their stick they're just plain nuts, in a nice normal way."

Looks Himself Up

In "The Snake Pit" when Olivia De Havilland started going off her rocker, did she insert strychnine in her hubby's oatmeal? Did she sprinkle ground glass on his toast just to watch him make funny faces?

She did not! The little lady was quite sensible about the business of losing her senses and had herself locked up in a nice safe booby hatch.

Fritz Land, directing Hayward's current Republic picture, recently indulged his fondness for mental cases in "Scarlet Street" and "Woman In The Window." His characters range from psychoneurotics to psychopaths to just plain nuts—and he loves 'em!

Firemen Thanked For Efficient Job

L. C. Mather of Mather Bros. company in a letter to Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink today praised the department for the efficient work they did recently at a small fire at the Mather store recently.

The letter follows:

"At this time I want to thank your fire department for the efficient manner in which they acted in preventing what might have been a serious fire at Mather Bros. Company, 213 East Washington street, early Monday morning, July 18. I happened to be absent from the city and I want to commend your department for the caution taken after which it was discovered that a smoldering cigarette under our manhole was the cause of the smell of smoke."

LETTER OF APPRECIATION

L. C. Mather of Mather Bros. company, East Washington street, has forwarded to Mayor John F. Haven a letter commending Policeman Trevor Williams and the Police department for his and their efficiency in discovering a cigarette smoldering in the store's manhole in the early morning of July 18. Mr. Mather said he desired to commend them for the caution taken after the cigarette was found smoldering by the officer.

SEATING GUESTS AT BANQUET

"I have been appointed chairman of a banquet which my club is soon to give. Will you please outline for me the proper seating arrangements at such an affair, that is, where should the toastmaster, speaker and other guests be seated? There will be twenty guests in all and there will be only one table."

Answer: The toastmaster should be seated in the center of the table with the first guest-of-honor or the most prominent person should be at the left of the toastmaster.

If there are any others who are to speak they should be seated thus: half to the right of the first guest-of-honor and the other half at the left of the second guest-of-honor. The other guests may be seated anywhere provided that, if possible, no two men or two women are side by side.

After the dessert is finished, the toastmaster should stand and make a short speech discussing the occasion of the dinner or the organization itself, ending with a reference to the first speaker—dwelling briefly upon his (or her) career and adding: "I take great pleasure in introducing Mr. Smith" or "Mrs. Smith." The speaker thus introduced should then rise and the toastmaster should be seated.

After this speech is finished, the toastmaster again rises, makes a few remarks about the speech just delivered and until all have been heard from. The guest-of-honor is usually asked to speak last.

If the guests-of-honor and other speakers are women, corsages should be presented to them.

Present your problems to Miss Markee who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

St. Margaret's Day
Ends With Fireworks

Morning High Mass, Splendid Parade, Band Concert, Fireworks in Evening

One of the finest displays of fireworks ever presented in this district brought the celebration of St. Margaret's Day, by St. Margaret's Council, to a close Wednesday night. The pyrotechnical display was given on the P. & L. E. ball field, beginning about 10 o'clock. Folks who witnessed the fireworks state it was the best they had ever seen.

Wednesday morning there was high mass at St. Lucy's church, said by Rev. Fr. Sebastian Ippolito in honor of St. Margaret's Day. There were fireworks during procession to the church and during the parade.

About 6 o'clock there was a large gathering of the council members, who formed at the hall and proceeded to march, headed with spirited music by the Red Coat band, up North Liberty to Madison avenue, West Madison to North Lafayette down to Montgomery avenue, then up Liberty street, back to the hall. It was one of the best parades ever put on in the ward.

Beginning at 8 o'clock a splendid concert was given by the Red Coat band on a stand erected for the purpose at the rear of St. Margaret's hall.

Frank Prescero was general chairman of arrangements; aides were Louis Colella, Ralph Cepco, Bart Lombardo, Phil Ross, Frank Masters, James Zarilla, Charles Masters, Angelo Russo and Patsy Monico. Mrs. Mariano Lombardo, Mrs. Rose Zarilla, Mrs. Margaret Masters, Mrs. Jane Rainey, Mrs. Catherine West, Mrs. Anna Perrotta, Mrs. Joe Frank, Mrs. Cecelia Perrotta, Mrs. Rose DiDario, Mrs. Anna Masters, Miss Phyllis DiPiero, Mrs. Catherine Ross, Mrs.

Doris Masters were the women's committee. Nick Perrotta is president, Nick Cangey vice-president.

Unusual Showing
Of Hobbies At Laurel Avenue

"What is your hobby?" was the question at Laurel playground yesterday as a host of young enthusiasts responded to the question with everything from airplanes to "Wheaties" masks.

A collection of souvenirs from all parts of the world caught the fancy of the on-lookers and earned first prize for Joe DeVivo.

Janice Brinkley was awarded second prize for her interesting collection of post cards, some dating back as far as 1870. A close third was a valuable costume jewelry assortment owned by Kathryn Seeger.

Earning the plaudits of the crowd for their excellent work were the judges: Mrs. A. L. Martin, James Morrow and Dolly Brush. Next scheduled special event will be "Modeling Day."

Parents Are Held
In Death Of Baby

Infant Daughter Found Slain In Indianapolis Results In Arrest Of Parents

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 21—(INS) — A former Indianapolis mental patient and his British war-bride were held today in the death of their infant daughter and police said the ex-GI admitted slaying another daughter in England two years ago.

A British court cleared the veteran in February, 1948, of a murder charge in connection with the latter death.

Police identified the war veteran as Billie Burke Edwards, 26. They said he and his wife, Brenda, were taken into custody yesterday when their 7-month-old daughter, Beryl June, was found dead in her crib.

Authorities said Edwards blurted out his confession to the other child's death during routine questioning. The girl, Brenda, was found dead and her body stuffed in a box near Southwick, Wiltshire, England. She had disappeared in July, 1947.

Edwards was released in Trowbridge, England, when a magistrate ruled there was insufficient evidence.

An Indianapolis coroner's report yesterday indicated Beryl June died of a brain hemorrhage caused by a blow.

Girls Enjoying
Camp Berkshire

All of the girls that left for Camp Berkshire, July 11, arrived safely and seem to be enjoying their stay, reports Miss Elizabeth
Morrow, director of the camp.

The girls are working on tobacco farms at Lake Congamond, near Southwick, Mass., on a summer recreation project designed for high school girls, from 15 to 18 years of age.

There are 161 girls in the camp, with over 100 of them being from Lawrence County.

The antelopes' leap is longer than that of any other animal. The animal jumps from 30 to 36 feet, and from 10 to 12 feet in height.

Rainfall Breaks Drought In State

Crop Picture Brightened, Rain Still Needed In Northern Counties

HARRISBURG, July 21.—(INS)—Twice-normal rainfall has broken the drought in Pennsylvania and brightened the crop picture, it was reported Wednesday by the State Department of Agriculture. Soil water reserves in most sections have been replenished during the past week, but more rain is needed in a few northern tier counties where only one to 1.8 inches of rain fell since the first of July, according to the weekly federal-state crop report. The southern counties received the heaviest rainfall during the period. Corn benefited most from the rains but little progress was made in harvesting wheat, the report stated. In some areas, where rains have been prolonged, early cut wheat is sprouting in the shocks, and the harvesting of oats is progressing only as weather permits, the department said. Potatoes improved greatly but blight has appeared in some fields, according to the report. Hay and grain harvests have been delayed in the southern and central counties, while fall plowing has started in eastern counties. Wheat yields in western counties were below expectations due to freeze damage at blossom time. Rainy weather slowed curing of second cutting alfalfa and clover but pastures generally are greatly improved, the report disclosed.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Goodman Ace's wife Jane, who is not very smart (for radio purposes, that is) insists that it's only a question of time until one of those give-away quiz programs calls her up and tells her she has won the grand jackpot. "If you actually win," asked her long-suffering husband, "what's the first thing you're going to do with the money?" "Count it," said Jane.

In a single memorable issue of the Hollywood Reporter Director Mike Curtiz was quoted as warning the world of science, "You fellows better lay off monkeying with the atom bomb; it's dynamite!" and Judy Canova was reported advising a group of high school students to "live your life so that you'll be proud to have Don Ameche play it some day."

Herb Caen, the San Francisco philosopher, defines propaganda as convincingly that it makes you furious, and a pickpocket as a gent who believes that every crowd has a silver lining."

Police Called, Cleaners Clean, Bank Not Robbed

WAKEFIELD, Mass., July 21.—(INS)—Police with drawn guns burst into the Wakefield Savings Bank early today, thinking it was being taken to the cleaners. And in a way, it was.

The police raced to the bank when informed strange noises were coming from it, as though robbers were using electric drills on the vaults.

What they found was this: The night watchman cleaning rugs with a vacuum cleaner.

According to Homer, Oceanus was the beginning of all things. He is usually represented in Greek mythology as a venerable man surrounded by sea monsters.

MILLBURN

The severe wind and electrical storm which visited this section Saturday evening blew down power and telephone poles and limbs of trees, interrupting electrical service for eight or nine hours and putting many telephone lines out of commission. Corn and hay that had not been cut was also affected.

The current unstable labor situation which has resulted in the turning off of many employees is being felt in this neighborhood by the closing of Simpson Pumping station by the Northern Pipe Line Co. Only a small force will continue at the station to care for the lines and equipment.

The Millburn store, owned and operated by Mrs. Emma Bougher, has been sold to a Pittsburgh party who will take possession in the near future. Mrs. Bougher expects to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. J. G. Armstrong.

Mrs. Paul Munnell substituted as "lecturer of the month" for Mrs. W. L. Mayne who was absent on account of illness in the family at the last meeting of Millburn Grange and presented the following program: Roll call; Farm animal imitations sung to the tune of "Seeing Nellie Home"; interpretive dance, Darla Bardeleir; humorous solo, Darla Bardeleir; talk on Texas blue bonnets by James Hart who was present as a guest. Highlights of their trip to New Mexico by Christopher Fink. The next grange meeting will be held on Thursday evening, July 28.

Mrs. Stephen Lukacs spent several days with her mother in Greenville last week. Mr. and Mrs. William Orr and family of Pittsburgh were weekend guests of Mrs. Emma Bougher. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ward of Pittsburgh spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Masters.

Gary and Ruth Masters concluded a visit with their grandparents and returned home Thursday evening.

Mrs. M. B. Boies spent several days with her daughter in Ohio last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hartt and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. James Hartt and daughter, Paula Kathryn, were Sunday dinner guests of Miss Cora and W. E. Hartt of Erie.

W. L. McClelland Will Speak Sunday

William L. McClelland, son of Third U. P. congregation, will speak Sunday morning July 24, at 11 o'clock in Third church. "Called unto Liberty" has been chosen as his theme.

Mr. McClelland, a midder at Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological semnary, Pittsburgh, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester McClelland.

Dr. J. Paul Graham, pastor of Third church, will leave Saturday for Camp Lambee, where he will serve as dean.

New Castle Kiwanis club had a varied program at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton Wednesday noon, when three new members were initiated into the club, and a film "Be Your Age," dealing with heart disease, the greatest killer, was shown.

The new members, Challice Bruce, Peter Grilly, and Orris Rager, were given white, tradesmen type aprons, with New Castle Kiwanis club inscribed thereon, and were seated at the head table.

They were instructed in the obligations of Kiwanis membership by A. Kenneth Hemer, chairman of the education committee, who was assisted in the ceremony by John R. Hodge, Lee Greer and Wayne Sines.

A special guest was Edward W. Schreiber of Macomb, Ill., former instructor at Senior High school, and a member of the Macomb club.

The picture showed the strides which are being made in combating various types of heart disease, with the admonition to men reaching the upper stage of middle age, to slow down a little, and take more rest.

House Spy Probers Name Two Members Of Communist Cell

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(INS)—House spy probers today identified two youthful scientists as members of a secret Communist cell at a wartime atomic research laboratory and said they would name others in the near future.

The two named by the House un-American Activities Committee were Giovanni Rossi Lomanitz, formerly of Fisk University at Nashville, Tenn. and David Bohm, now a professor of physics at Princeton University.

It is said they were among "five of six young physicists" who were enlisted into a party cell at the University of California Radiation Laboratory between 1940 and 1942.

The accusation was contained in a forward to a printed transcript of testimony by Steve Nelson, a Communist party organizer whom the committee accused of being a Soviet atomic espionage agent.

Missing Man Turns Up At Dallas, Tex.

LOS ALAMOS, N. M., July 21. (INS)—H. Tracy Snelling, Los Alamos Atomic Energy commission public relations official who disappeared July 13, is expected to return home today to tell Red Cross officials about a worthless check.

Snelling, object of a wide search in the Southwest, turned up at the FBI office at Dallas, Tex., yesterday.

Red Cross officials have charged he failed to make good a personal check for $1,000.

American Red Cross Treasurer Edwin Brooks said Snelling gave the Los Alamos Red Cross chapter the check in payment for funds collected in a recent Red Cross campaign.

Brooks said the check was returned from a Santa Fe bank marked no funds and that Snelling had asked that it be held until he could make it good.

Snelling's wife attributed his action to financial worries due to illness and a death in the family.

World's Population Is Growing Faster Than World's Food Supply

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., July 21.—A United Nations survey gloomily warned that the world's population is growing faster than its food supply.

The report stresses that despite good harvests in Europe and America in 1948 and 1949, which provided more food than before World War II, vast areas are still gripped by poverty and hunger.

The survey, rustling the shades of Malthus and other late 18th century economists says:

"World population is about 10 per cent larger than before the war; world supplies of food per person were still five to 10 per cent below the pre-war level."

Urges Steps Be Taken
The report urges that steps be taken to prevent any general world recession and to maintain full employment. The U. N. experts decry the "tendency of economic activity to level off even though the world's supply of goods is still inadequate to meet the requirements of the growing world population."

The study points out that the financial crisis in the western world reflects a complete reorientation of world trade.

Formerly, the survey continues, European countries met their U. S. trade deficits with dollars received from other countries, mostly colonies, which had trade surpluses with the United States.

Since the war, the report adds, the flow of trade has been reversed, with the United States buying many items in the western hemisphere instead of in the colonial possessions of European nations.

Overseas Trade Deficit
The U. N. report found that five European countries—France, Germany, Italy, Netherlands and the United Kingdom—directly accounted for two-thirds or more of the total overseas trade deficit of Europe in 1947 and 1948. The inclusion of Belgium and Luxembourg, Norway and Sweden raises the deficit for these countries to four-fifths of the total. In its outward and direct expression, the European balance of payments problem thus appears primarily as a problem of western European countries.

The report adds:
"World population is about ten per cent larger than before the war; world supplies of food in terms of calories per person were still five to ten per cent below the pre-war level and were even further below desirable nutritional levels in terms of other nutrients essential to health."

"The total population of the world about the middle of 1947 is estimated at 2,315 million. Recent information about population changes in various areas indicates a world population of about 2,350 million at mid-1948. For mid-1949 the figure may be about 2,375 million."

REMOVING SPOTS
When rain strikes freshly applied paint, it may penetrate the coating in such a way as to cause very unsightly spotted effects. Rubbing the spotted surface with alcohol will extract much of this moisture, and restore the paint film into its original color. Where this is not possible, merely allowing the paint to weather for a period of a month or two will often restore it to its original color.

The Royal Exchange of London, England, is built on the site of the original "Bourse," which was destroyed by the great fire of 1666.

Fairs Scheduled In Many Counties But Not Lawrence

Eleven Scheduled In Western Pennsylvania; Last Fair Here In 1941

Lawrence county will again go without a county fair this year, but not so with other Western Pennsylvania communities.

Eleven fairs are scheduled in Western Pennsylvania for August and September of this year, ranging from three-day fairs to a six-day fair in Butler county.

Lawrence county held its last fair in 1941. After that year the fair grounds were sold and since then no attempt to revive the event has been successful.

Residents of the county looked forward to the fairs held at the old fair grounds on the Harlansburg road for more than 20 years.

It was an annual affair which featured farm displays, cattle shows, trotting races and many other shows and forms of entertainment.

Following are dates of fairs in Western Pennsylvania:

Aug. 10-12—Green county, Waynesburg.
Aug. 15-20—Butler county, Butler.
Aug. 16-19—Washington county, Washington.
Aug. 23-27—Mercer.
Aug. 30-Sept. 3—Indiana county, Indiana.
Sept. 1-5—Stoneboro.
Sept. 2-5—Ford City.
Sept. 6-10—Crawford county, Meadville.
Sept. 7-10—Lanesville.
Sept. 13-17—Cambridge Springs.
Sept. 18-21—Jamestown, Conneautville and Cochranton.
Sept. 22-24—Towerville.

Soap Box Derby Winner Ruled Out At Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—(INS)—A board of inquiry announced today that George Wichterman, 12, winner of Philadelphia's "Soap Box Derby" last Saturday, has been disqualified.

A trip to Akron, Ohio, for the finals of the tiny car races will go instead to the runnerup, Clifford Shisler, 15.

The decision to bar Wichterman was made last night at a meeting of the board—Municipal Court Judge Nochem S. Winnett, Frank Ballantyne, head of the Philadelphia Automobile Club; and William Berry, secretary of the Keystone Automobile Club.

Judge Winnett told International News Service that the boy had violated many rules of the contest.

Steel made in India several hundred years before Christ, was apparently good enough quality to be made into 100 different surgical instruments.

About one out of seven deaths occur when the children are on and injuries in traffic are youngsters from 5 to 14 years old, which bicycles, according to the National Safety Council.

Hold Chapter NightFive New Candidates Admitted To Organization Wednesday Night

Officers Chapter Night was held at the Moose home on Wednesday evening with Chairlady Mrs. Mae O'Neill and her committee in charge.

The initiation of five new candidates took place under the supervision of Senior Regent Mrs. Charles Jameson and her staff of officers. At the station of faith was Graduate Regent Mrs. Edwin Fisher, at the station of hope, Junior Regent Mrs. Harry Schell, and at the station of charity, Mrs. Mae O'Neill.

Mrs. Clara Hawk presided at the piano and during the business meeting Mrs. Elgin McConnell was presented with her past president pin by Senior Regent Mrs. Charles Jameson who thanked her for her untiring and gracious years of service to the Women of the Moose. On behalf of the organization, Mrs. Alvin Herberg presented Mrs. McConnell with a lovely corsage.

An announcement was made to the effect that a bicycle had been purchased by the organization and sent to a local boy who is now a resident of Mooseheart.

Mrs. Jameson named Mrs. Dorothy Petro to serve as chairlady for hospital guilds.

The group planned to hold a chairladies meeting at the summer home of Mrs. Elizabeth Cross in July 28 in the form of a wieners roast, cars to leave the Moose home at 7:30.

Following the meeting, the committee served lunch at the V shaped table attractively decorated with summer floral arrangements. Mrs. O'Neill was in charge of the lunch committee which was composed of the Mesdames Ina Cleveley, Hulda Doerr, Clara Jameson, Mae O'Neill, Mabel Schell, Clara Grimes, Clara Hawk and Alice Clark.

The door prizes were won by Mrs. Mildred Cartwright and Mrs. Catherine Barnes.

Mistress of ceremonies Mrs. Schell charmingly presided over the entertainment program. Mrs. Alvin Herberg, Mrs. Clara Jameson, Mrs. Elgin McConnell, and Mrs. Alice Clark comprised the entertainment committee.

The birthday occasion of Mrs. Hulda Doerr, president of the Academy of Friendship, was remembered with a surprise hanky shower from the group.

Three guests from Dubois were present.

The next meeting will be on August 3 at the Moose home.

Scenes At Local Camp Meeting Grounds

Large tabernacle like tent is shown above in use at the Free Methodist camp meeting being conducted on Marshall Field in the Croton district of the city. Rev. With the half-way mark having been reached, the camp meeting has been more than attained at the Free Methodist camp meeting being conducted on Marshall Field in the Croton district of the city. Rev. Paul Splistone, district superintendent and camp director, reports that everything is functioning smoothly and several hundred visitors are found daily in attendance at the religious services.

The large tabernacle-like tent, 40x70 feet, pictured above, is crowded to capacity each night of the camp with many in attendance in the day sessions. The tent has been purchased by the camp association and will be used by the church group until a permanent auditorium can be erected.

Meal time is another important part of the camp life. Three times daily the call sounds out over the camp with many in attendance in the day sessions. The tent has been purchased by the camp association and will be used by the church group until a permanent auditorium can be erected.

Main evangelists for the camp season this year are Rev. C. E. Zike of Akron, O., and Rev. J. E. Hollister of Chicago. Rev. Zike will be heard this evening at 7:30 o'clock, while Rev. Hollister will be speaking both morning and evening on Friday.

The camp sessions come to a close next Sunday when the camp facilities are expected to be taxed to the limit. Preparations are being made to handle the large crowds which will come to the services on the closing day.

On Wednesday afternoon, the children of Croton Playground showed an interesting collection of their hobbies. Everything imaginable was on display.

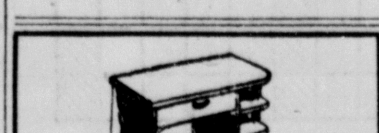

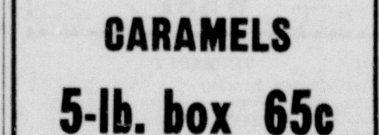

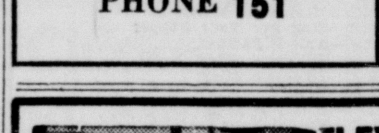

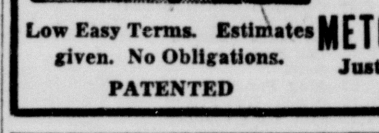

Winning first place for her collection of soap figures was Dorothy Pascarella. A "Sparkle Plenty" doll was an unusual feature of her group, and Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck, flowers, and other models were on display.

Second place went to Betty Cimini for her showing of souvenirs she had saved from many interesting places. Valjean Fenati was awarded third prize for her three foreign dolls, one Dutch, and the others, Belgian and Spanish. Honorable mention went to Florence Eckley for a display of plaques which she had made herself.

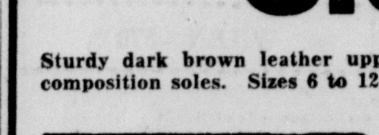

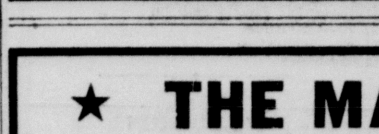

Judges for this special event were Ruthie Memo, John Germani, and Anna Mae Malizia.

The children will hold a parade on Thursday. Dressed like old ladies, clowns, ghosts, bums and other characters, they will have a show at the grounds.

The girls are scheduled to meet at Dean Park for a volley ball game with the Dean Park team, on Thursday.

West Side Has Busy Afternoon

The "old swimmin' hole" of the West Side playground attracted many children on Wednesday afternoon, as they tried to find a way to keep cool. Proof that the youngsters were enjoying themselves could be found in the way they splashed, waded and swam about.

Aside from the attraction of the wading pool, the slides, swings, tether ball, and see-saws were in constant use by the playground enthusiasts.

A hobby show was the special feature of the afternoon. An unusual collection of hobbies were brought by the large number of participants in the event.

The judges had a difficult time deciding upon the winners, as there were so many close entries. Finally, Fred Smith captured the first prize for his collection of miniature horses. A sewing machine and a group of handmade doll clothes won the second prize for Judy Becker. Marion Becker had an interesting entry of candy dolls and was awarded the third prize.

Theresa Gonzales and Jean Herick were the judges of the afternoon event.

The United States Library of Congress was established in 1800.

Wounded Man Is Slightly Improved

It was stated today at the Jameson Memorial hospital that some slight improvement has been noted in the condition of William Gosnell, aged 21 years, of R.D. 1, Pulaski, accidentally wounded by a 22 calibre rifle, while hunting in Wilmington township, Tuesday evening.

His condition, the hospital authorities stated, is still regarded as critical however. He has been given a number of blood transfusions to build up the supply he lost, after he had been wounded.

Union Firemen Postpone Meet

Union Township Volunteer Firemen who were to have met in a special meeting this evening have postponed until a later date, it has been announced by L. F. Hemmingsway, president of the organization.

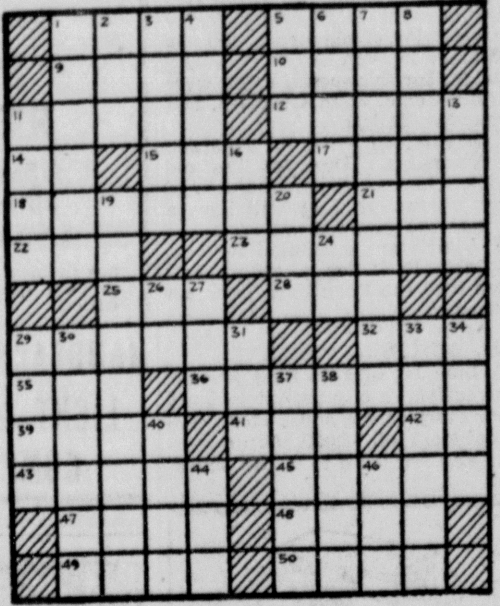

Our word "salary" comes from the Latin "salarium," which meant salt money and was applied to the allowance given to soldiers of ancient Rome with which to buy salt.

STOVE EXPLODES

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., July 21 (INS)—A family of six was made homeless by a fire which destroyed their frame house yesterday at New Franklin, five miles south of Chambersburg.

Tenant John Yeager told firemen he was canning beans in the kitchen when an oil stove exploded, setting the house afire. Mrs. Yeager and four children were away from home at the time of the blaze. Yeager saved a small cedar chest in which, he told firemen, he kept his savings.

Williams Defends His Title Tonight

World Lightweight Champion Heavy Favorite To Retain Crown In Los Angeles Bout

By CHUCK PANAMA
(International News Service Sports Writer)
LOS ANGELES, July 21.—Enrique Bolanos, who believes in that old saying, "try again", will make a third attempt tonight to dethrone world lightweight boxing champion Ike Williams in a title bout at Los Angeles. Williams, who has scored two victories over Bolanos in previous title matches, was installed as a 1 to 2 favorite to keep his crown. The champion scored an 8-round TKO over the challenger in 1946 and last year gained a split, 15-round decision.

Dempsey To Referee
Third man in the ring in tonight's battle will be former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey who offered his services as referee to promoters Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, the movie and radio comedy team.

Dempsey said he would donate his earnings to the Lou Costello, Jr., Youth Foundation which will be beneficiary of the bout.

With the announcement of Dempsey as referee came a sudden surge of dollars at the ticket windows and Costello forecast a $125,000 gate. The attendance is expected to be 20,000.

Both fighters predict they'll win. Enrique says he'll do it with a knockout. Williams apparently isn't in a hurry. He claims he'll take it by a decision.

AUTOMOTIVE SCHOOL DEFEATS JEWELERS

New Castle Automotive school defeated the Jewelers school, 12 to 8, last night at Dean park to win the best out of three series for the training softball title.

Automotive Clubmen took the lead by scoring four runs in the first three innings, but the Jewelers came back in the fifth with five runs to go ahead. The Clubmen came back in the sixth and seventh to sew up the game.

Lombardo pitched for the Automotive school and Logo for the Jewelers. Teams wishing to challenge the clubmen for the training title should contact the Automotive school. Score by innings: R H E Jewelers . . . 211 004 4—12 12 2 Clubmen . . . 010 050 2—8 7 2 Batteries: Clubmen—Lombardo and Fontanello; Jewelers—Logo and Bird.

CHICAGO HORNETS HARD AT WORK

CHICAGO, July 21.—(INS)—Coach Ray Flaherty led the Chicago Hornets of the all-American football conference into their second training session Wednesday and ordered special workouts for Nate Johnson, a hefty veteran tackle who showed up at camp weighing 261 pounds.

Training started Tuesday for the Hornets, reputedly the largest squad in pro football. They make their 1949 debut against the Buffalo Bills at Soldier Field Aug. 26.

Expect Hot Tilt Between Clowns And Phila. Stars

Ed. Bolden's Philadelphia Stars, members of the Negro American league, will make their second appearance at Flaherty field, at 8:15 p. m. Tuesday against the Indianapolis Clowns and a hot game is in prospect. The team was organized in 1932, and Oscar Charleston is serving his second season as manager.

Charleston broke into baseball during World War 1, and played with all the prominent colored teams.

He has made many changes in the line-up, replacing faded stars with fast youngsters.

The team lost Frank Austin, shortstop to the Newark Bears, Harry Simpson, outfielder to Wilkes-Barre, but these changes have been partly offset by the reinstatement of Bus Clarkson, who has been playing in Mexico for the past four years.

New faces, such as Jones at center, Littles in right field, Heiner at left field, Davis at first, Smith at shortstop and Thompson, a hurler, has resulted in praise being devoted to the Stars.

The team has the strongest catching department of the league in Bill Cash and Stanley Glenn, and an able pitching staff containing Henry Miller, Bill Ricks, Barney Brown, Bob Griffith and Wilmer Harris, and Charleston is confident the Stars will figure in the pennant race, the game with the Clowns being an official league fracas.

EAGLES-PIRATES FRIDAY

The West Side Pirates will play the Eagles team an American Junior league game at Deshon field Friday at 6 o'clock. It was announced today. All members of the Pirates are to meet at the home of Harry McAhee after the game for a very important session.

Interest High In Canfield Midseason Championship Event

One Of Largest And Fastest Fields In Country Will Face Starter Saturday

CANFIELD, O., July 21.—Interest is high for the coming mid-season championship A.A.A. mid-gate auto race to be held at the Canfield Speedway this Saturday night, July 23. One of the largest and fastest fields of Offenhauser powered midget cars and star A.A.A. drivers ever to compete in this section of the country will converge upon the Canfield speedway for this outstanding event.

Among the top contenders in the 35-car field for the large purse awarded the Canfield midseason championship winner are Ralph Pratt, the Kansas City ace; Al Bonnell, the "Flying Dutchman" from Erie; and the three former winners of this classic: Elmer Wilson of Toledo, who won in 1946; Mike Little, Johnstown, winner in 1947; and Buddy Huesman, Toledo, winner in 1948.

50-Lap Race
The midseason championship program will consist of the usual eight events, but the feature event, the midseason championship will be run for 50 laps, instead of the usual 20.

The time trials Saturday night, which get under way promptly at 7:00 will be worth coming out early to see, as each of the 35 drivers strive to qualify their car for the pole position in the long grind.

VFW TO PLAY BROOKERS
The VFW team will play East Brook tonight in a postponed North County league game at the South Hills field at 6 o'clock.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

THE AFTERMATH OF ILLNESS

Most of us know that after certain childhood diseases, one must be careful lest complications develop. The heart may be affected by rheumatic fever, the eyes by measles, and so forth. What is often less generally recognized is that there may be psychological complications.

Naturally, when a child is ill, we are much concerned and want to do everything possible to speed his recovery. If the illness has been a serious one, a pattern of concern probably has developed that does not stop with the child's recovery.

We are so thankful that the illness has passed that we are too solicitous to give the child the time our child was most ill. Youngsters, too, have found the sickroom attentions satisfying and naturally would like to have them continue.

It is important to take stock after we are sure a youngster is fully recovered and see whether we are continuing to treat him differently than we did when he was ill. A period of illness, too, has found the sickroom attentions satisfying and naturally would like to have them continue.

PROFIT-TAKING AFFECTS MARKET

Some Minor Changes Reported In Prices During Morning Transactions

NEW YORK, July 21.—(INS)—The stock market lost ground today as profit-taking developed following the recent straight-line advance. Leading issues declined to a point, but pressure was not heavy.

Among industrial leaders to favor the downside were Allied Chemical, which was off 1/4 at 174, U. S. Steel off 1/4 at 22 1/2, DuPont off 3/4 at 47 1/2, Chrysler off 1/4 at 27, and Bethlehem Steel off 1/4 at 27.

Air Reduction was in demand among the specialties, gaining 1/8 to 22 1/2 on an initial transaction of 2,900 shares.

The recent feverish activity in Commonwealth & Southern appeared to have abated, and the issue was unchanged at 45 1/2.

Volume for the first hour totaled 180,000 shares, as against 400,000 in the comparable period yesterday.

County Disaster Facilities Being Grouped Together

Representatives of County, City and Red Cross Discuss Mobilization

Representatives from New Castle, Lawrence county and the Rescue division of the Red Cross met Tuesday night at the Red Cross chapter house to discuss mobilization and organization of disaster facilities in the county.

Ralph F. Davis, Red Cross chapter disaster chairman, presided over the meeting.

Discussions at the meeting concerned hazards in the community such as drownings, explosions, floods, sudden storms and other accidents that require immediate rescue efforts.

J. C. Wachtman, executive vice president and secretary of the Greater New Castle association, explained that there will be a great need for disaster facilities when the new super highway begins in the county.

Speedier Aid Sought

Through the coordination of the city, county and Red Cross services it is felt aid can be more readily made available for emergency situations.

Plans were made at the meeting to publish maps of the county showing hazardous spots, distribution of population, distribution of doctors, nurses, volunteer fire departments, emergency equipment and other services needed at the time of a disaster.

Request is made to the general public for all persons in water safety and first aid to register at the local Red Cross chapter house so that they can be called in time of emergency.

Urged To Register

It has also been requested that all persons owning boats, powerful lights, and all kinds of rescue equipment register them at the chapter house for use in times of floods and other emergencies.

Sheriff Frank Coen represented the county at the meeting with Richard Davis, director of safety for New Castle, representing the city.

Harry Culliford, chairman of the rescue committee of the Red Cross, represented that group.

J. C. Wachtman represented the Greater New Castle Association, Mrs. Plummer Gibson the chapter First Aid committee, Miss Donna Reynolds the Water Safety committee and Mrs. Louise McConnell the local Red Cross chapter.
